Teen charged over blaze

BY SARAH LEE
editor@mk-news.co.uk

A TEENAGER has been charged with arson with intent to endanger life following a house fire at the weekend.

James Sawyer, 19, was also charged yesterday morning with burglary at the same address.

He appeared at Milton Keynes Magistrates' Court shortly after he was charged and was remanded in custody. He is due to appear at Aylesbury Crown Court on Monday.

Nearby neighbours, some wearing dressing gowns and pyjamas, were forced to evacuate their homes in the pouring rain while four fire crews worked to put out the flames that engulfed the home in Waterside, Peartree Bridge, at 1.30pm on Sunday.

The blaze caused 70 per cent damage to the second floor of the home and 50 per cent of the first floor was affected by smoke.

Speaking to MK NEWS one neighbour, who did not want to be named, said: "I was just enjoying a casual Sunday afternoon when I heard cars pull up quickly and doors slamming loudly outside.

"I looked out of my window to see what was going on – and I was shocked to see that there was a fire next door.

"Police and firefighters were everywhere and we were told to evacuate our house for an hour or so – just in case the fire spread.

"We took to the street with the rest of the evacuees – some of us in dressing gowns and pyjamas huddling together in the pouring rain.

"It was a nightmare. I don't know how the fire started, but I know the lady who owns the house is in hospital for other medical reasons."

Another neighbour said: "The fire looks like it has caused some serious damage. I'm glad nobody was hurt."

A Buckinghamshire and Milton Keynes Fire and Rescue Service spokesman said: "Nobody was injured and all occupants and close neighbours were evacuated and safely located away from the premises and away from any harm."

A Thames Valley Police spokesman added: "Anyone who saw any suspicious activity in the area at the time is asked to contact police on 101."

Residents' gig 'dread'

A COUNCILLOR has called for 'zero tolerance' on drunkenness and drug taking ahead of the Foo Fighters concert this weekend.

Councillor Nigel Long has also called on Milton Keynes Council to 'properly manage' traffic concerns ahead of the shows at The National Bowl on Saturday and Sunday.

He added that South Furzton residents are 'dreading' the gigs.

It follows problems after the last major concert at the Bowl, the Electric Daisy Carnival in July, caused problems for residents living nearby in roads such as Favell Drive.

The reported issues included poor parking, drug taking, drunkenness, large amounts of rubbish and what Councillor Long called 'a general disregard for local people'.

He said: "In July I raised the need to manage the concerts properly so locals do not suffer.

"There must be zero tolerance. I expect the council and police to tackle all the previously highlighted problems."

Meanwhile, rock duo Royal Blood have been announced as the final support act for the show, which will also feature Iggy Pop.

A number of road and redway closures will be enforced over the weekend.

Company crippled with debt

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

THE company behind The Big Outdoor Show in Milton Keynes is to go into liquidation after the event turned out to be a flop.

Exhibitors claim they have been left thousands of pounds out of pocket after Freesports Events Ltd ceased trading.

A caterer, who did not want to be named, said: "Many of us had already signed up for and paid in advance for other events run by them. In total we could have lost more than £150,000 paid towards future events."

As previously reported by MK NEWS, The Big Outdoor Show, held at Willen Lake in May, received a number of complaints from exhibitors and visitors.

Director Pauline Gibson admitted at the time she was disappointed by the response to the three-day event that was supposed to promote outdoor activities in Milton Keynes, but still wanted to make future events 'bigger and better'.

The caterer said they have contacted The Nationwide Caterers Association for legal advice.

Tony Gardener, event manager at Freesports, said: "The low footfall at the event caused a huge financial situation, which Pauline has tried to resolve with further personal investment and exploration for outside investment that unfortunately was unsuccessful. This has left Freesports Events Ltd with little choice but to take legal and financial advice to liquidate the company. All creditors have been notified and will be further informed in due course."

Workshops provide taste of success

PEOPLE from across Milton Keynes shared a picnic to celebrate work they created in a series of workshops at the Milton Keynes Arts Centre.

The free workshops throughout August attracted people from community and youth groups, as well as MK College and Compass UK.

They made bowls and pots, weaved plates and worked with ceramics with all creations taking inspiration from plant life.

Thomas Eke, Milton Keynes Arts Centre's learning and participation programmer, said: "The picnic was a chance for groups of people who wouldn't usually rub shoulders to come together and for all of those groups to realise they have worked towards a common goal."

There were four workshops a week, with different artists leading sessions on the relationship between art and the environment.

The workshops culminated in the picnic on Saturday when around 100 guests ate food grown during the workshops from platters made in them, while enjoying artwork created by the participants.

Mum's pride at being a finalist

BY CHRIS KNIGHT
editor@mk-news.co.uk

CITY mum Dawn Allen has been nominated for a Pride of Britain award for her work with The Henry Allen Trust.

Dawn, 38, and husband Mark, 37, launched the charity in February 2014 following the death of their four-year-old son Henry, pictured, who lost his battle with cancer.

She has been named as one of the final four nominees for the region and has been filmed by ITV, ahead of the broadcast of the awards ceremony on September 29.

Speaking to MK NEWS, Dawn spoke of her shock at being nominated by her friend Hayley Hope-Newman in the category ITV Local Fundraiser of the Year.

She said: "When I first heard about the nomination, I thought Hayley was joking!

"I am really shocked that people believe I should be recognised. The nomination means the absolute world to us. My worst fear was that everyone would forget Henry – it is so humbling."

Since Henry died from neuroblastoma in October 2013, The Henry Allen Trust has sought to provide advice and support to families affected by childhood cancer.

Hayley said: "The work Dawn is doing with The Henry Allen Trust is truly amazing – to be able to do what she is doing as well as going through the grieving process is phenomenal.

"Dawn really doesn't think she is doing anything special, but she is an amazing lady with a heart of gold! She is a true inspiration to me and many more."

The Pride of Britain Awards celebrate the achievements of people in categories like Lifetime Achievement, Outstanding Bravery and Teacher of the Year.

Alert over distraction thieves

A WOMAN has warned shoppers in Kingston to be on the alert for distraction thieves.

The shopper posted on a community Facebook page that she was approached by a woman asking her to change a £2 coin for two £1 coins while shopping on August 22.

A man then approached from the other side to ask something, at which point the woman unzipped the lady's handbag – but she was stopped before she could take anything from it.

The shopper added in her post: "Beware of these people when you go to the car park in Kingston."

Woman hurt in robbery bid

A WOMAN had her face and hand scratched in an attempted robbery in an underpass between Conniburrow and Linford Wood.

The victim was walking through the underpass under Dansteed Way at 9am last Wednesday when she was approached by a man who demanded money and used a weapon to scratch her.

Drive forward new plan

YOUR August 26 story 'Sites suggested for extra spaces' on the pressure for more car parking in the city centre causes me to think that those seeking more parking have neither done their sums nor spotted the growing trend away from urban car dependency.

Currently CMK has about 24,000 parking spaces, more than any comparable centre, so how many more spaces do the car lobby want?

Would they like another 24,000, or would just a further 10,000 suffice? Have they factored in the road capacity implications of greater numbers of vehicles seeking to reach the city centre?

Are they, for example, secretly planning some sort of 'spaghetti junction' type solutions? Where would the money come for all this asphalt and concrete?

Have they dared to tot-up the additional CO2 emissions that more parking would encourage – in defiance of the 2008 Climate Change Act? I suspect that very little thinking has been undertaken.

I also suspect that the car lobby is ignoring the fact that, with motor vehicles producing around 24 per cent of our overall CO2 emissions, the way forward for somewhere like Milton Keynes is to evolve a strategy that will significantly reduce our high levels of car dependency.

MK – 'the city of the car' – was yesterday's idea, but for the next 50 years we need a much more sustainable approach.

This December, Paris will host the UN Climate Change Conference and sustainability issues will be headline news.

Does Milton Keynes want to be identified with an outmoded 'yesterday' type of unsustainable transport system – a bold example of how not to do it?

Is vision for CMK safe?

INTU Milton Keynes says MK cannot stand still and I agree.

So do 90,000 other people who voted for the new CMK Business Neighbourhood Plan.

This is precisely why intu should work with the new neighbourhood plan instead of against it.

Other developers are already filing planning applications that respect the CMK plan, including new offices, a hotel and positive plans to regenerate Lloyds Court.

But intu has chosen a negative path, which not only threatens a new public transport route, but local democracy itself.

The CMK plan has passed every test with flying colours but the reputation of Milton Keynes Council itself is now on the line.

Will it respect the wishes of the people and stick to adopted plan, even if that causes passing inconvenience to one, aberrant business?

Localism has changed the world of planning for the better. If the council stands firm and refuses intu's application tomorrow it will be reassuring voters, and the wider business community, that our hard-won neighbourhood plans are safe in their hands.

Linda Inoki
Chairman of Xplain

Our town is losing out

A FEW years ago the major tenant of Cofferidge Close in Stony Stratford, the Open University (OU), pulled out and left a gaping hole in the local economy of the town.

Since then, the building has become dated and not really up to the demands of modern business.

At the same time, businesses have had to cope with the loss of trade that the OU employees and visitors brought.

Three years ago, the owner put forward a plan to demolish the rather nondescript building and provide a modern and well planned alternative that would have brought back jobs, a new supermarket and homes.

It has been a largely political campaign led by friends of the original architects and this site is now being considered for protection and even listing at some point in the future.

As a result, Stony loses more and more to CMK, jobs go begging and prospective residents have no where to go.

There were some issues with the loss of one parking space and some greenery – all of these could have been adequately resolved.

Now, Stony, with the prospect of many new visitors and customers from the emerging Western Expansion Area, as well as the need to serve the existing population, will be left with a decaying carbuncle merely to please a few architects, their friends and self interest.

I have heard strong rumours that now that plans are afoot for the redevelopment of Wolverton's Agora, that some also want that to be protected and listed.

Maybe local residents should be polled rather than bulldozed into having their communities left uninspiring and defunct of any real benefit and purpose other than to fuel the ego of a minority.

Alderman Paul Bartlett
Stony Stratford

We asked is MK a town or a city?

Send comments on stories to letters@mk-news.co.uk

Samantha Jane Coster: "I say 'city' but call Newport and Bletchley centres 'town'. To be honest, Milton Keynes is really a collection of towns/industrial estates/communities with a 'city' like centre."

Matt Lane: "I have always said city, however technically speaking it never got true city status. So it's still really a town that's affectionately known as a city."

Shireen Hall: "I'm an original local born here long before Milton Keynes was created. It will always be a city in my eyes since it has been developed."

Andrew Rooney: "I didn't move to Milton Keynes until 1988. The population was about 90,000 then. It was called a city then, but was just a small town spread out over a reasonably large area. Now we're a large town. I'll get on board with calling it a city when the population reaches half a million, which will be in about 20 years."

Edward Hedges: "There are many that argue profusely it is only a town, however, most of them regularly say 'I'm off up the city."

Debbie Djukic: "I have lived in UK and USA cities and MK is like a modern town with a grid system."

John Muir: "It's a town, there's no two ways about it. It doesn't matter what anyone thinks it won't change it."

David Lewis: "It's a borough. We have a charter granted by the Queen in the 70s."

Gina Wooding: "Anyone from around here always says city – like 'going up the city'.

Anthony David Douglas: "Well whatever we say it is not a city until the Queen grants it."

Getting to the heart of the issue: Gill Robinson is backing this newspaper's Walk Safe campaign

Redways could improve health

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

A CHARITY leader who helps people with heart problems is backing MK NEWS' Walk Safe campaign to improve the city's redways.

Statistics from the British Heart Foundation revealed last week show that Milton Keynes has the fourth highest number of people suffering from premature heart deaths in the South East region, with an average of 73 people aged 75 or younger dying of coronary heart diseases between 2011 and 2013.

Only Medway in Kent, Southampton and Portsmouth had higher death figures.

The research does not surprise Gill Robinson, who is the founder and director of the charity Milton Keynes Community Cardiac Group in Whaddon Way, Bletchley.

She believes that if the city's redways were more appealing, more people would use them to exercise, which could help ease the number of people suffering from heart problems in the city.

"It doesn't help when people are driving and we have a wonderful resource in the redways," she said.

"Some of our ladies don't want to use the redways because they feel intimidated by them so it would be really wonderful if we could maximise the potential of the redways.

"I think clearing up the redways would be really useful."

A spokesman for Milton Keynes Council said: "We are changing 500 street lighting units on redways to LED lighting and in respect to resurfacing any defects are repaired.

"We are continuing to partner with British Cycling and promote use of the redways by publishing a dedicated redway map, which is distributed for free."

'Staff needed before single sex carriages'

A RAIL users association chief has spoken out against suggestions for female-only carriages on trains.

The idea was put forward by the front runner for the Labour Party leadership, Jeremy Corbyn, who said having carriages reserved exclusively for women could help improve safety on public transport.

But Richard Crane, chairman of the Bedford to Bletchley Rail Users Association, said he did not think single-sex carriages were the right way forward.

He joked: "Most of the trains on lines near me have only got one carriage so what would we do then? I presume that means only women could ride on them. It cannot happen on small lines where there are only one or two carriages. We need visible staff rather than segregated carriages."

Figures from the British Transport Police show a rise in the number of sexual offences in the area Milton Keynes falls under, with 80 on trains last year compared to 72 in 2013.

A spokesman for London Midland told MK NEWS: "It's not something we are currently considering.

"There are arguments for and against it and if it was something that was introduced we would have to introduce it. But we have no plans at the moment."

Probe starts into fatal plane crash

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

AN INVESTIGATION has begun into the deaths of a family-of-four killed in a plane crash.

Richard Hewitt, 50, his wife Fiona, 52, and their two children, 17-year-old Felicity and Harry, 14, were the last of the six victims to be named after the light aircraft they were travelling in crashed into a mountainside in Les Bergeronnes, Quebec, on Sunday, August 23.

The bodies of the family from Shenley Church End will not be flown home to the UK until the inquest into their deaths has been completed. Quebec Coroners said this would be held over the coming months.

Cloud and rain significantly hampered efforts to reach the steep and densely wooded area of the crash site.

Investigators said damage to trees around the site suggest the engine had power during the seconds before it crashed.

The plane's GPS system that may help investigators understand the final moments has now been recovered.

Geneviève Guilbault, communications officer for Quebec Coroners, told MK NEWS: "We cannot tell at this point when the Hewitt family will be flown back to the UK but a Quebec coroner will investigate the six deaths."

A statement from an unnamed family member, via the Foreign Office, said: "Their families are devastated by the news of this tragic incident and are struggling to come to terms with the loss of the entire family. Please respect the family's wishes for privacy in this deeply distressing time and we ask to be left to grieve."

Tributes: Some of the flowers left outside the family home in Shenley Church End. Inset: Fiona Hewitt

Neighbours shocked by loss

NEIGHBOURS of the Hewitts have described them as a 'lovely family'.

Those living in the same street are still in shock following the deaths of the family-of-four while they were on holiday in Canada.

Neighbour Graham Knight said: "Everybody in the close is shocked.

"One neighbour was told what had happened and she came round and told everyone in the close. My wife Sarah just burst into tears. They were such a nice family."

He said Harry liked playing football and Felicity used to attend Guides.

"It is such a shame, they were teenagers with their lives ahead of them," he added.

One woman, who lives in the close but did not want to be named, said: "We were very good friends. I am just too upset to talk."

Another neighbour, Mark Stevens, added: "They were a nice, decent, down to earth family. I am in total shock, I can't believe it. They have lived here a long time. The kids grew up in the close."

Anjali Ninawe, who lives in the close, told MK NEWS: "They were a lovely family.

"I remember the mother in particular, who was always smiling and was just beautiful. We are all very sad and are in shock as it is just horrible news. May they rest in peace."

Mother Fiona worked as a shiatsu practitioner for 15 years at health care clinic Alternatives in Shenley Church End, before moving to a role at Denbigh School.

Alternatives owners Peter and Chard Berkin said: "Fiona will be terribly missed by all who knew her."

Harry's coach devastated

THE squash coach of 14-year-old Harry Hewitt, who had taught him since he was seven, told MK NEWS he was 'absolutely devastated' by his death.

David Hall, 66, who coaches at Shenely Leisure Centre, praised Harry as an 'excellent squash player' and 'intelligent lad'.

He said: "He was an excellent squash player and member of the Under 13s county side. He came very close to county champion and was moving up the different age groups.

"He had great potential.

"I am still absolutely devastated and have chatted to some of the other players who are all very upset. They were a really nice family and Harry should be remembered as a nice and intelligent lad."

Wedding camera stolen on big day

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

A DAUGHTER is hoping for a 'miracle' after her mum's wedding photographer had her camera stolen just hours after the ceremony.

Kay and Scott Collins tied the knot at The Holiday Inn in Central Milton Keynes on August 8 following the bride's battle with breast cancer.

After the wedding, the photographer parked her car in Ambridge Grove, Peartree Bridge.

At some point after 9pm the blue Fiesta was broken into and the Canon camera, which contained all the pictures of the couple's big day, was stolen.

Kay's daughter, Stacie Latter, published a post about the theft on her Facebook page, which has already had more than 9,000 shares.

Stacie, 30, from Monkston, said: "The photographer has been checking all camera selling sites but we know we are hoping for a miracle.

"My mum is devastated. She has been battling breast cancer and had to delay the wedding but got the all clear in January.

"She had to go through reconstruction surgery and lost her hair due to the chemotherapy but on her wedding day she looked so beautiful with her own long hair and a stunning dress.

"Friends took photos but she is so upset she has none of the professional ones where they are all looking at the camera.

"They can't get this day back.

"I know posting it on Facebook is a long shot but I just feel helpless and I don't know what else to do or say."

If you have recently been sold a Canon camera with a Sigma lens, have found an SD card, or saw anyone acting suspiciously call police on 101, or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Window display whips up a fury

Festival fires up

HUNDREDS of people flocked to the three-day Chilli Festival at Frosts Garden Centre in Woburn Sands over the Bank Holiday weekend.

From chilli eating competitions to Mexican fancy dress, the festival had something for everyone.

Steven Woodward, working on the Zambian inspired chilli product stall, Mushemi Fire, said: "The atmosphere has been great. We have received a lot of interest with the favourite product being the hottest chilli jam we have."

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

A MUM and her two teenage daughters were 'horrified by a recent Ann Summers' window display, which has sparked a debate on our Facebook page.

The mother, who wants to remain anonymous, complained to the lingerie giant about the display, which featured mannequins with whips and nipple tassels, as it could be seen by families walking past the store in the centre:mk last Tuesday.

She said: "We were horrified by the latest window display and even my 15-year-old daughter said it was like a soft porn advert. It was completely inappropriate for a supposedly family-friendly shopping centre."

The display, called Turn it On, has now been taken down and an Ann Summers spokesman said: "It is not our intention to cause offence. We value public opinion and strive to achieve the right balance."

A spokesman for the centre:mk added: "Ann Summers will often push the boundaries in its communication and the window display was an example of that."

ONLINE DEBATE

Kirsty Hefford: "I didn't find the display offensive at all – they're mannequins in an Ann Summers window, what the heck are they supposed to be wearing?"
Emma Walters: "It's the people making a fuss and creating a taboo that make it an issue for their young ones."
Aaron Guess: "People wear less in music videos these days – bet the teenager still watches them."
Janet Smith Well: "I do think advertising bondage in a shop window in a centre which is advertising a 'family beach' on its website, is going a bit far."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Billy Harley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Bedford, Milton Keynes & Leighton Buzzard areas and Billy is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Billy a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Cool support for ice hockey star

BY JACK ASH
editor@mk-news.co.uk

ONE player at MK Lightning is going to have more fans than most this season after a Talksport presenter sponsored him for the year.

Edward Knaggs, 17, who is set to begin only his second senior season in his ice hockey career, has called upon family friend and presenter of Talksport's Drive Time Show Adrian Durham to provide vital money this season.

The deal has already been discussed on the show with co-host and ex-England cricketer Darren Gough, providing great exposure for the club.

Adrian said: "National recognition on the biggest sports radio station around cannot be a bad thing, and Goughie and I are hoping to get to a few games.

"It's good for the club and for British ice hockey in general, the profile of the sport can always get bigger so hopefully we can help boost that even more.

Friend: Edward Knaggs has won sponsorship from, Adrian Durham from Talksport, inset

"Ed Knaggs and his brothers went to school with my children, his brother Dominic is a gifted footballer and played in the same team as my son Jamie, so the two families got to know each other well and I've tracked Ed's progress. He's very impressive so I wanted to show some support for the guy."

The sponsorship will help Edward buy kit throughout the season and replace any faulty or broken gear – some players get through as many as 30 sticks in a season.

Edward, from St Albans, will be juggling playing with an engineering course at West Hearts College and is extremely thankful for the support.

"It's great to have such a high calibre supporter who will be very supportive over the season – they will be able to attract more fans to the club," he said.

"We are in the midst of a pre-season summer camp at the moment but the team has already gelled really well and we are looking to win the league this year."

Protest plans over historic buildings

BY SARAH LEE
editor@mk-news.co.uk

Concerned: Phillip Webb wants Wolverton Works' past preserved

A RESIDENT is encouraging others to join him in a campaign against the demolition of the historic Wolverton Works.

As previously reported by MK NEWS, a planning application has been submitted to Milton Keynes Council for the regeneration of the rail works by St Modwen.

The £100million plans at the Knorr Bremse-owned site include modern commercial premises that St Modwen says will 'support hundreds of jobs', 375 new homes, a food store and a heritage centre.

But Phillip Webb from Wolverton, who manages the Facebook page 'Save Wolverton Works from redevelopment', said: "I am hoping that by hosting a meet up, we can try and get the demolition stopped and the buildings saved for future rail use. The plan by St Modwen will strip Wolverton of the historic buildings we have all grown to love."

Mr Webb is inviting people to join him at the site in Stratford Road, Wolverton, on September 12 at 1pm.

He added: "If they demolish all the buildings and replace them with modern warehouses then any remains of the original works will be diminished. The British Royal Train is also housed here and nowhere in the plan does St Modwen intend on preserving it here.

"If you really have to build houses, then they should build within the shells of the old buildings."

As part of a multi-million pound expansion of Milton Keynes Museum in Wolverton there are plans for a building dedicated to the history of the town.

Director Bill Griffiths said he hopes if a heritage centre is created at the works the museum would be involved.

He said: "As an independent museum, we have struggled for almost 50 years to become sustainable. A competing heritage centre close by would obviously cause us problems."

A spokesman for St Modwens said: "The plans have been submitted following detailed consultation with the local community, key stakeholders, Wolverton and Greenleys Town Council and Milton Keynes Council, along with extensive surveys."

Children and young people in specialist foster care placements have had troubled and disrupted family experiences and, often, previous placement breakdowns. They have a high level of needs and can display challenging behaviours. Some have recently left residential care.

We are recruiting specialist foster carers who are ready and able to understand the impact of loss and disruption on children and young people. Specialist carers are part of our multi professional specialist fostering team, responding holistically to children and young people's needs and providing a local service for those whose needs cannot be met in mainstream fostering.

Our specialist carers receive an excellent support package, including a dedicated social worker, 14 days paid annual leave, extensive training and a payment of £646 per week.

Buster finds the paw-fect family

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

AN 11-YEAR-OLD Bull Terrier, which was the RSPCA's longest serving dog, has finally found a new home in Milton Keynes.

Buster has been cared for by the RSPCA for 19 months and had to watch more than 400 other dogs get rehomed.

But new owner Paul Roberts from Springfield has come to his rescue and the pair have been inseparable ever since.

Mr Roberts said: "When I saw what Buster went through, I thought I just have to give him a home.

"He is a lovely dog, everybody loves him. He follows me everywhere and he wants to be with people.

"I think the benefit of having an older dog is that he has settled in really well and is toilet trained."

Buster had been rescued from a property in Edgware, London, last year weighing half the weight he should have been at just 12.6kg.

He needed veterinary treatment and his owner pleaded guilty last June to offences under the Animal Welfare Act.

High five: Buster today and, inset, how he was when he was found

The RSPCA believes Buster may of been ignored for so long by people looking for a dog because of his age and breed.

Mona Jorgensen, deputy centre manager for the RSPCA, said: "Buster is a great dog. Seeing dogs settle into their new home and be given a second chance at life is lovely and makes Buster's difficult journey feel worth it."

THE FACTS

- 401 dogs were rehomed during Buster's stay at RSPCA
- He was overlooked by visitors for 578 days
- The average stay is 36 days

New home: Christine Holley is helping Arts Central move

New horizons for arts charity

A POPULAR arts charity has found a new home after being forced to move out of its donated premises above Milton Keynes Central train station.

Arts Central MK, which had been under threat of eviction for more than two years, will move into new premises in Norfolk House, near Central Milton Keynes Library, on September 11. It will include a 100-seat film makers cinema.

Christine Holley from the charity said: "We will continue to help make MK creative."

Secret is out as park attracts 200k visitors

BLETCHLEY Park has welcomed its 200,000th visitor this year, smashing all previous records.

Throughout last year 196,000 people visited the site where codebreakers secretly worked during the Second World War.

So far this year, visitor numbers are 61 per cent higher than in 2014.

The 200,000th visitor was one of the Collings family from Winchester, Hampshire, who were visiting Bletchley Park for the first time.

Dad Jason, mum Katherine and their daughters Josephine, 16, Miranda, 13, and nine-year old Charlotte were given free one-year passes to Bletchley Park along with a guidebook and a teddy bear.

Jason said watching the film The Imitation Game had given the family the nudge to come for a day out.

He added: "We want our children to have an awareness of how important this place was to us 70 years ago."

Kelsey Griffin, the park's marketing and communications director, said: "Visitor income allows the Bletchley Park Trust to fulfil its mission to not only preserve this uniquely historic site but also to tell this amazing story to generations to come."

Panto magic for Priscilla Presley

BY JACK ASH
editor@mk-news.co.uk

Oh yes she is!: Priscilla Presley is Genie of the Lamp

DALLAS actress and ex-wife of the King of Rock 'n' Roll Priscilla Presley with be starring in this year's pantomime at Milton Keynes Theatre.

The former star of Naked Gun will be playing Genie of the Lamp in Aladdin alongside comedian Gary Wilmot as the Chinese Laundry owner, Widow Twankey.

Dance world legend Wayne Sleep OBE will bring his own choreographic Genie-us to the show as the Genie of the Ring, while MK panto favourite Kev Orkian will be Aladdin's wayward brother, Wishee-Washee.

Priscilla ironically got married to Elvis at the Aladdin Hotel in Las Vegas in 1967 and last year starred in Snow White and the Seven Dwarves in Manchester.

"I've done some amazing things in my career but, three years ago, I was introduced to the crazy world of pantomime and I can honestly say it was one of the most fulfilling experiences of my life," she said. "My grandchildren absolutely loved seeing me on stage and I can't wait to get out in front of a live audience again.

"It's such a wonderful honour to be spending Christmas here and being part of this very special British festive tradition."

Meanwhile, singer/songwriter and former A1 boyband member Ben Adams will be taking the lead role as Aladdin.

The former Big Brother contestant is no stranger to panto fans in Milton Keynes after starring as Prince Charming in Cinderella in 2009/10.

And the role of Aladdin is also familiar ground for the singer, who played the part in Woking last Christmas.

Fake school owner calling for a retrial

BY CHRIS KNIGHT
editor@mk-news.co.uk

THE owner of a bogus business school that offered fake degrees has demanded her case be taken to the High Court, or she receives a written apology following her conviction.

Tina Beloveth Powerful, of North Third Street, CMK, was convicted on June 19 for 'misleading students' by claiming her Everest School of Transformational Leadership offered accredited degrees.

After failing to attend three sentencing hearings, a warrant for her arrest was issued on July 17.

Despite being wanted by police for almost seven weeks, Powerful has sent MK NEWS 200 points in an email outlining her grievances with Milton Keynes Magistrates' Court following what she has described as a 'travesty of justice'.

She said: "I invite Milton Keynes Council and the magistrates court to overturn the decision of the magistrate, quash the judgement and return a not guilty verdict, as a guilty verdict amounts to a travesty of justice.

"On the other hand, I invite you to arrange a retrial of this case at the High Court, as I no longer have confidence in Milton Keynes Magistrates' Court.

"Better still, I will very much appreciate that a written apology be offered to me and the press to notify that justice has been served to me in order to restore dignity to my defamed character."

> I will very much appreciate that a written apology be offered to me...to restore dignity to my defamed character
> Tina Beloveth Powerful

Powerful's school had boasted of outstanding facilities, hi-tech classrooms, computer labs and multimedia facilities.

It also claimed to offer accredited degrees, Masters, PhDs and LLBs.

But having pleaded not guilty in earlier appearances at Milton Keynes Magistrates' Court, she was finally convicted.

The arrest warrant was issued in the ninth listing of the case, which has cost the taxpayer £8,000 since it began in September 2014.

MK Dons' plans worry residents

BY SARAH LEE
editor@mk-news.co.uk

A PETITION against the newly-proposed MK Dons training ground has been set up by concerned residents.

The football club's chairman Pete Winkelman has revealed plans for a new 'international standard' training ground based in Cosgrove that would include four first-team, 11 academy, three community and two 3G artificial pitches.

However, some residents of Wolverton Mill and Cosgrove believe the development 'will destroy an area of natural beauty and heritage'.

Peter Taylor of Wolverton Mill, who set up the online petition, fears Mr Winkelman has not revealed the whole truth about his plans.

He said: "Mr Winkelman could have put his academy somewhere else but he says there are no alternative sites in MK.

"If the site is approved, we believe Mr Winkelman would submit a further application for a hotel – something we feel he should be up front about.

"Other areas of concern include the visual destruction of the country-side; light pollution from floodlights; noise pollution and threats to the existing flood plain."

On an online community forum one resident from Cosgrove said: "I'm concerned our sleepy little village is about to be changed forever."

An MK Dons spokesman told MK NEWS: "We believe the position of the facility is isolated and any noise disruption will be minimal.

"We are also working with the council's planners and highways department to ensure there is minimal traffic impact on the village."

Putting indoor

IT WAS the second of the MK NEWS sports reporters' challenges and after a tense battle it was me who triumphed, writes Jack Ash.

Myself and Scott Kirk visited iPlayGolf UK at the iCentre in Howard Way, Newport Pagnell, to weigh up whether playing indoors is better than outdoors.

And after a deciding playoff, I managed to beat Scott to bring the scores level after I lost the go-karting challenge in May.

Here we take a look at the advantages to teeing off inside.

The 'cave'

THE facility has everything any sports fanatic could ask for, including six indoor golf booths, a bar open until 3am seven days a week, a pool table and wide screen TVs showing sports events from around the world.

The Jimenez Suite – named after famous Spanish golfer Miguel Angel Jimenex – also gives golf fans the VIP treatment with speakers to play your own music, a wide screen to play on and fridges stocked with both alcoholic and non-alcoholic drinks, which adds to the enjoyment.

The world

YOU can play golf anywhere in the world without even having to step outside the door.

Instead of walking miles around a golf course, we were able to play a few holes at Medinah, where Europe dramatically won the Ryder Cup in 2012, from the comfort of the Jimenez Suite. St Andrews, the Belfry and Augusta are also available among other world-famous courses.

golf to the test

The result

AFTER a very close game that saw Scott take the first hole, me take the second and a draw on the last, a closest to the pin game finally separated us.

I managed to win, getting within 12 foot of the flag.

With regards to indoor versus outdoor golf – while traditionalists like the wind flowing through their hair and being out on the green, this is a great alternative that provides expert analysis and a great way to socialise with your mates.

Vital statistics

WITHIN seconds of hitting a ball at iPlayGolf UK, advanced technology is analysing every part of your swing to help make you a better player.

Everything from where you hit the ball face, the club's path, velocity of the ball and launch angle is analysed allowing you to make decisions on new clubs and your technique.

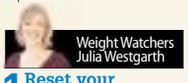
ACTIVATE YOUR AUTUMN!

Summer's slipping away and the days are getting shorter. But autumn doesn't have to equal hibernation... In fact, this can be your time to feel better than ever

The leaves are falling. The nights are drawing in. Just like bears, we humans can sometimes long to get comfy and hibernate – preferably with a full biscuit tin!

But it needn't be this way. You can shake off that lethargy and boost your energy - even as the weather gets colder. In fact, with a more vibrant, active lifestyle, you could be well on your way to dropping a dress size this autumn rather than gaining one. Here Weight Watchers Programme Development Manager Julia Westgarth explains how...



1 Reset your motivation! 'Don't let the colder, darker days have an effect on your weight-loss journey. Focus on the success that lies ahead. Look to the future by choosing small, achievable goals.'

2 Shout it from the rooftops! 'Let your family and friends in on your goals and use their encouragement to make it a reality. Why not share it on social media too? Many of our members find the group support in our meetings invaluable so surround yourself with people that will motivate, support and encourage you.'

3 Dress bright, feel bright! 'The sky's grey but you don't have to be! Bright colours can lift your mood. One item of colour will add warmth to your outfit. So go on! Add a splash of colour to your autumn wardrobe, a statement scarf or even a slick of bright lipstick.'

4 Food, glorious food! 'Fill your plate with seasonal, colourful food that will keep you satisfied. Maybe challenge yourself to try one new recipe each week – and how about adding spices for an extra boost?'

5 Move it! 'Making small changes to your activity levels can have a positive impact on weight loss. Autumn really doesn't have to mean hibernation –check out a fitness class or swap the car keys for comfy shoes and take a 10-minute walk. Why not try an early morning boogie to wake you up for the day?'

Weight Watchers will support you throughout your journey in a way that fits your lifestyle - so whether you want to attend meetings or join online you will always have access to our inspiring leaders who have all lost weight themselves. You also can receive support and motivation on demand 24/7 with Expert Chat on your mobile or online.

Honour: MK Community Choir will be singing the Samoan and Japanese national anthems

Choir's pitch perfect

BY JACK ASH
editor@mk-news.co.uk

MK COMMUNITY Choir is making its final preparations ahead of singing the Samoan and Japanese national anthems when the two sides meet in the Rugby World Cup next month.

The hundred member-strong choir only received confirmation it would be performing at stadiummk, where the game will be played, last month.

Nicky Newlands, who has been in the choir for four years, is really looking forward to the match, which will be played on October 3.

She said: "It is pretty daunting learning Japanese and Samoan but we are really excited – the Japanese anthem is a little shorter than the Samoan one. We are really looking forward to singing.

"Chairman of the choir, Rebecca Cooper, was contacted by the choir co-ordinator for the Rugby World Cup, who had seen our website and us singing on a YouTube video.

"We are really excited to play in front of 30,000 people, it will be easier singing in a group and we will have the crowd and players joining in.

"We were asked to sing at all three games at stadiummk but decided just to do this one. Myself and a few other members have tickets for the other games."

The choir, which meets at Christ Church in Stantonbury every Tuesday, has members of all ages and returns to practise on September 8.

It will be practising once a week before the match.

Wear jeans to raise genes charity cash

BY SARAH LEE
editor@mk-news.co.uk

A SCHOOLBOY who has a rare genetic disorder is asking people to wear jeans to work or school to help sufferers of the condition.

Jenson Belkevitz, seven, from Newport Pagnell, suffers from Batten disease – a rare disorder meaning he is blind, wheelchair-bound, has seizures, is fed through a stomach tube and is susceptible to infection.

The pupil from Redway School in Farmborough is hoping people will support Jeans for Genes Day on Friday, September 18.

Money from the annual event has already helped pay for a horse-riding simulator at his school.

Jenson's mum Cheri Loeber, 39, said she didn't notice anything unusual about his development as a baby and his diagnosis came as a surprise.

She said: "I didn't notice anything untoward about Jenson's development.

Rare genetic disorder: Sufferer Jenson Belkevitz

"He was slow to start talking as a toddler and spoke just two or three words at a time – something the family hoped would improve with speech therapy – but the speech therapist didn't think this was cause for concern.

"The first worrying sign came in 2010 when Jenson couldn't line up bricks at the pre-school he attended and became very clumsy.

"Over the years Jenson's sight began to deteriorate – it was so poor he would walk into metal railings if I didn't hold onto him – and by October 2010, he was registered blind.

"Within weeks of starting school he began to have jerky movements.

"Then one day he came home from school and had three tonic clonic seizures in a row. He was admitted to the John Radcliffe Hospital for two days of tests."

Just after Christmas 2011, Cheri received formal confirmation that Jenson had an extremely rare form of the inherited genetic disorder Batten disease.

Approximately five to six children are diagnosed with this disorder in the UK each year.

Tragically, Jenson's condition will only get worse.

He will regress and suffer increased seizures and chest infections.

MK BUSINESS

Raising a glass to jobs as more companies bite

BY SARAH LEE
editor@mk-news.co.uk

Raising the bar: Revolución de Cuba is set to look like the one already open in Derby when it launches in MK, following Five Guys welcoming its first customers

HUNDREDS of new jobs are on offer in the city after another business opened and others announced plans to open in the area.

In the last week a restaurant has opened its doors to customers and an online supermarket, a bar, discount store and fashion retailer have all said they will be moving to MK.

Pam Gosal, Milton Keynes Council's corporate head of economic development and inward investment, said: "The secret is out and it is not a surprise that the city continues to be a magnet for new entrepreneurial start-ups and blue chip companies – both from the UK and internationally – because they have the confidence and faith in Milton Keynes to know that they will grow and thrive here."

Burger lovers have been queueing all week to visit Five Guys, which has opened in Xscape, creating 27 jobs.

Ocado has announced plans to open a delivery hub in Tongwell, creating 250 permanent jobs.

Due to open on November 11, the hub will also be home to 111 vans for the online supermarket.

Revolución de Cuba will be opening a £1million bar in the Theatre District in October, which will be offering 75 new jobs.

Fashion retailer Joules will be opening a new 4,578sq ft store in Sunset Walk at the centre:mk later this year.

Joules founder and chief executive, Tom Joule, said: "We wanted a standout location within the Milton Keynes area and the centre:mk offered the right environment for our brand.

"We're really looking forward to bringing our unique personality and style to shoppers in time for Christmas."

Poundland has also announced plans to open a new store in the city, although an exact location is still to be confirmed.

Firm looking for talent not qualifications

A FINANCIAL and business advising firm in the city has taken a radical approach to recruitment by dropping GCSE, A-level and degree results as requirements for potential employees.

Instead the business' recruitment strategy now focuses on individual talent, values and potential.

This saw it take on 500 new trainees across the country in 2014 – a 25 per cent increase from the previous year.

This positive picture is mirrored in Milton Keynes with Grant Thornton welcoming 20 new recruits to its office in Silbury Boulevard in September.

Director John Corbishley said: "By adopting this innovative approach and removing the traditional entry criteria which many professional firms still employ, we can recruit the brightest and best, regardless of background.

"We have met some fantastic young people offering an array of valuable skills who we may not have otherwise encountered.

"When hiring in Milton Keynes we look at potential, not just past performance.

"It is critically important that everyone has the right to participate in a vibrant economy and we would like to see more companies opening out their recruitment policies in the same way."

Louis carves out successful firm

BY PHILIP MCELENEY
editor@mk-news.co.uk

A STONE mason has proved his deafness is no barrier to self-employment and business success after he was shortlisted for a national award.

Louis Francis, the UK's first deaf stone mason, has been shortlisted in the entrepreneur category of the 2015 Signature Annual Awards.

After working with learning and skills charity Shaw Trust, Louis set up his business – Francis Stone Design – which creates unique artwork using traditional craftsmanship, skills and methods.

He has been running his business, based at Westbury Arts Centre in Shenley Wood, for almost a year and is delighted his efforts have been recognised.

He said: "I have been busy since the day I started the business, which is great for me and very exciting as I love what I do.

"It's great to be busy and it's great being your own boss running an up-and-coming business – daunting at first yes, but absolutely worth it. I am very proud of my achievements and this recognition from Signature".

Mr Francis now boasts a wide portfolio of work and customers, such as a sought-after commission for Windsor Castle – where he created a bespoke gargoyle for St George's Chapel.

The awards are organised by national deaf charity Signature. Lindsay Foster, its chief operating officer, is thrilled Louis' drive and determination has been highlighted.

She said: "Louis is a very talented stone mason who has worked very hard to make his business a success.

"He is a real inspiration and role model for anyone who is considering self-employment. We wish him luck with the award and hope his business success continues."

The winners will be announced at prestigious awards ceremony Signature Recognises...The Community at the Museum of Science and Industry in Manchester on Friday, October 9.

Business gets healthy result

A MEDICAL recruitment consultancy firm has been named as one of the most successful UK recruitment agencies – just six years after it was launched.

An industry-wide survey by Recruitment International magazine of companies has ranked National Locums 415th in its list of the top 500.

Launched in 2009, the company was a home-based business set up by brothers David and Glenn Cook and their wives Natalie and Jen.

Now based in offices in Manor Farm Court, Old Wolverton, the business is on track for a turnover of more than £19million in the current financial year. National Locums helps supply locum doctors, nurses and allied healthcare professionals to more than 200 NHS and independent hospitals throughout the UK.

Managing director David said: "As one of the youngest medical recruitment consultancies, I'm absolutely delighted to have achieved a top 500 listing, particularly as recruitment is one of the most crowded and competitive business sectors in the country."

A burning ambition to open shop

A NEW independent gift shop has opened its doors to customers.

Stocking brands such as Village Candles and Woodwick, WaxyGifts in Weston Road, Olney, boasts a large selection of candles and lamp burners.

Store owner Vanessa Jones said: "I never gave up on my dream of having the best smelling shop around. It's taken a lot of hard work – often working until the early hours seven days a week and lots of sleepless nights –but the customers make it worthwhile.

"After collecting candles for more than 30 years I have built up a reputation for having a sharp nose for scents.

"Nothing we stock is just a product, I personally test and trial for up to three months at home every product sent by suppliers to test how it performs – burn times, scent throw, smoke etc.

"If I am not happy with the product then I am not happy to sell it to my customers."

In position to launch yoga class

BY SARAH LEE
editor@mk-news.co.uk

A ONE-OF-A-KIND yoga studio and juice bar has been opened – which will also offer a programme for recovering drug addicts.

Estella Ramos launched the Yoga Buddy Studio and Juice Bar in The Carriage Works, Wolverton Park, on Saturday.

The first of its kind in Milton Keynes, the studio combines yoga classes and workshops with a separate juice bar serving freshly juiced fruits and vegetables using produce from local organic allotments.

She said: "Users can experience the joy of practising yoga in our large urban space. I hope to see children of all ages learning yoga as an enjoyable way of developing balance, control and serenity. Over 50s, even over 90s, can learn flexibility, relaxation and self-awareness.

Wolverton resident Estella is also launching a community project called Concrete Cows, which will provide an abstinence-based program for recovering addicts to experience yoga, meditation and nutrition workshops.

Her passion lies in sharing the belief that practising yoga combined with high quality nutrition creates peace of mind and contentment.

She added: "I have fulfilled my dream to open a yoga studio and juice bar and I invite you all to join me in creating a centre of wellness within the beating heart of the community from which can radiate personal growth and recovery."

Bid to make MK hub for technology

A CAMPAIGN to bring investment to technology companies in the Milton Keynes area is being driven forward by the Biztech business and technology forum.

Fredi Nonyelu, Biztech's chairman, will be launching the new investment funding campaign at a breakfast gathering of the city's business leaders today.

He said: "We want the Milton Keynes area to be spoken of in the same breath as London and Cambridge as a hub for new and fast-growing technology companies.

"To create a virtuous circle of innovation and growth, to become a hub for technology companies, we need to create the links between the innovators and the people with investment funds.

"When we have those links in place, we will attract the top people and grow even faster, attracting even more investment."

Fredi will be at The City Breakfast Club, which is held at stadiummk on the first Wednesday of every month.

HOW YOU CAN USE YOUR PENSION TO ELIMINATE INHERITANCE TAX ON YOUR DEATH

Since 6 April this year we have a new pensions regime in place known as Pension Freedom the major advantage of which is the ability for savers to access their money purchase pensions 100%.

One of the biggest benefits is the new ability to pass on pension assets outside of the saver's estate for Inheritance Tax purposes. This means that overnight pensions offer wealthier people a tremendous opportunity to legally avoid Inheritance Tax!

The following 6 steps show how anyone with a pension and whose total assets exceed the tax free Nil Rate Band of £325K (£650K for a married couple) can reduce the effect of death taxes by simply rearranging their assets and prioritising their spending.

1. Maximise your pension contributions.

The current annual contribution allowance is £40K but you can use the last 3 years' unused contributions and make a larger contribution in the current tax year as long as you have the earned income to support the payment.

2. Beware of the Lifetime Allowance limit

Not only is there a contribution limit but also an overall cap on how much you can have in your pension of £1.25m which falls to £1m from 6.4.16. The tax penalty on exceeding this limit is high. So make sure you are not in danger of exceeding this limit.

3. Make sure you can live on your non-pension assets
4. When you die you want to minimise your non-pension assets above the tax free £325K Nil Rate Band (£650K for married couples). You could use savings and investments to generate income rather than your pension.

Consider giving away assets

If your pension is well funded and you have sufficient non-pension income to live on, think of reducing IHT by giving assets away. This will reduce your IHT further.

5. Consider Inheritance Tax efficient investments

Some investments become 100% Inheritance Tax free after 2 years because they qualify for a tax relief known as Business Property Relief. You need to take advice on these investments because they are high risk.

6. Write a will

It is vitally important to at least draft a will. You should regularly review and update your pension death benefits nomination too.

Drama group returns with another whodunnit

FOLLOWING the success of their last play, award-winning drama group The Third Age Players (TAP) will be performing another comedy thriller from tomorrow.

Agatha Crusty and the Murder Mystery Dinner, written by Derek Webb, is being staged by TAP at The Chrysalis Theatre in Willen Park.

Agatha is at a private dinner party where guests are set to play a murder mystery game.

That is when the plan goes wrong and murders take place. Can Agatha use her skills to solve the mystery and find the culprit?

TAP, part of the Milton Keynes University of the Third Age, performed a sell-out Agatha Crusty play last year. Audience reaction was so enthusiastic the group decided to offer another this year.

Tickets to the show, on Thursday and Friday at 7.30pm and Saturday from 2pm, are £9 (concessions £8) and can be bought by calling 01908 969554 or visiting www.ticketsource.co.uk/tap (10 per cent booking fee).

Volkswagen's heaviest hitter gets a makeover. Jonathan Crouch reports

Volkswagen's Touareg range is now powered exclusively by 3.0-litre diesel engines available in either 204 or 262PS outputs. The styling has been facelifted and you now get even more gear for your money. There's an off-road oriented Escape version on offer and prices are now on a par with the pricier compact SUVs.

Background

The Volkswagen Touareg has never been the most in-your-face of the big 4x4s. Look at the imposing slab-like front end architecture of a Range Rover or the squirrel swallowing air-intakes on the Porsche Cayenne and you'll probably concur. Volkswagen's offering has always appeared a little more reserved, more family-friendly, more Volkswagen than its ostentatious rivals. The styling of the latest version has evolved into something slicker and altogether more expensive-looking. Nevertheless it's still a good choice for luxury SUV buyers looking to maintain a more discreet profile.

The latest generation of Touareg not only has to face rivals such as the Land Rover Discovery, the Lexus RX 450h, the BMW X5 and the Mercedes ML, it also has to earn its corn against in-house cousins such as the Porsche Cayenne and the Audi Q5/Q7. That's why the latest car has been given a spruce-up aimed at making it more economical and better value.

Driving Experience

The Touareg engine range has been rationalised and it's now far easier to understand. There are two engines to choose from and they're both economical 3.0-litre turbo diesels. One makes 204PS and the other a gutsier 262PS, both driving all four wheels via a brilliant eight-speed Aisin automatic gearbox. With this transmission top speed is reached in 6th gear, 7th and 8th essentially being used as overdrive gears to improve cruising economy.

That said, not all Touaregs are created equal, especially if you're planning to venture off road. For anything a bit Bear Grylls you might want to look to the Escape version which features the 4XMOTION off-road four-wheel drive system, with 50:50 torque split and centre and rear axle mechanical differential locks, higher off-road suspension, 18-inch 'Karakum' alloy wheels, 100-litre fuel tank (85 litres is standard on SE), and underbody protection.

Design and Build

The styling of the latest Touareg models definitely has some extra sparkle as a result of the most recent facelift. The styling hasn't been radically altered by the net effect is a sleeker, less macho look. The revised bumpers incorporate grilles with more slats than a Ferrari Testarossa and the revised alloy wheel designs are also a good deal showier than the utilitarian look of some of the older designs. A revised colour palette also features and the headlight units have been upgraded to incorporate bi-xenon lamps. The lack of a seven-seat option will continue to hinder the Touareg's appeal to family buyers but there's plenty of room for five adults to get comfortable and their luggage should fit in the extremely spacious boot.

The Touareg never feels less than well built and although the dash is a little overloaded with buttons, the controls are solid to the touch. The interior doesn't have the elegance of a Range Rover's or the slickness of Audi's Q7 but it certainly isn't put to shame in this illustrious company. Inside, the front seats now come with standard lumbar support, and there are two optional wood trims - 'Sapelli Mahogany' and 'Engineered Ebony', while the optional Nappa leather upholstery in the R-Line model is now available in two-tone Flint Grey and Titan Black.

Market and Model

Prices remain reasonable in a market sector where the roof seems to have been lifted and manufacturers are racing to load their cars up with as much kit as possible and price them accordingly. You can put a Touareg on your drive for £43,000 which is less than some Range Rover Evoque models. Interestingly, that price is in very much the same ballpark as the Porsche Macan diesel, a car which also seats five but fronts up with 255PS. Given the choice between those two vehicles, it's hard to see too many people plumping for the Volkswagen.

Still, the Touareg does come with a fairly decent slug of equipment, even in base SE trim. Your money buys you 19-inch 'Salvador' alloy wheels, satellite navigation with an eight-inch touchscreen, DAB digital radio and Bluetooth, 2Zone climate control, leather upholstery, parking sensors and chrome roof rails. The Escape model gets all the off-road equipment as well as black roof rails and a headlight cleaning system while the range-topping R-Line version gets the options list thrown at it. Prices here start at £46,000 and customers get R-Line body kit with bespoke bumpers front and rear, sill extensions and wheel arch extensions, 20-inch 'Tarragona' alloy wheels, lowered sports suspension, LED daytime running lights and a panoramic glass sunroof. Inside there's a black roof lining, bespoke R-Line seats and aluminium-look pedals, a heated steering wheel, an electrically operated tailgate and keyless entry and start. It's hard to complain about that level of equipment provision.

Cost of Ownership

The decision to migrate to 3.0-litre turbo diesels has helped the Touareg to some manageable cost of ownership figures. Remember the old 5.0-litre V10 diesel with its 333g/km emissions? That all seems rather quaint in a time when a Ferrari 458 emits less. The current crop of Touaregs emit from 173g/km and top out at a reasonable 180g/km. Fuel economy for the rugged Escape model is 40.9mpg with the SE getting 42.8mpg regardless of whether you choose the 204 or 262PS engine. Given that it's only £1,500 to get that additional 58PS, that seems like a decent deal to us.

Depreciation has been a bit of a sore point for Touareg owners and the fact that this facelift extends the life of a fairly venerable vehicle in a market place full of up and coming new faces doesn't seem to stand it in brilliant stead. That said, dealers may well be willing to cut you a deal once they have ample stock of these facelift cars.

Summary

The refresh to the Volkswagen Touareg is welcome but it doesn't disguise the fact that this model is getting a little long in the tooth. As long as you don't feel the need to have the newest and freshest thing on the market, the Touareg still has a lot to be said for it. It's tough, drives well and as long as you don't need seven seats, it's hard to pick holes in its practicality. In order to convince buyers of the Touareg's appeal, Volkswagen has also loaded these latest models up with quite a lot of standard kit and priced them keenly.

Of course a cynic might ask in what way a Touareg is class-leading and it would be tough to pinpoint one. Its chances of success reside in managing to convince enough people enough of the time that it covers the required bases competently. If that sounds like damning with faint praise, it's not meant to. Think of this car as an artful exercise in managing compromises instead. It's still well worth your attention and with prices now overlapping with compact SUVs, its value proposition speaks for itself.

Introducing The All-New Nissan NP300 Navara

The all-new Nissan NP300 Navara sets a new benchmark in the one-tonne pick-up sector, combining the best of Nissan's Crossover leadership with over 80 years of experience in designing and manufacturing robust and cleverly engineered pick-ups. Improving comfort and refinement while maintaining the Navara's acclaimed off-road ability, durability and loading capacity, was a cornerstone of the new vehicle's development. The vehicle is all-new, with a robust and tough chassis that introduces a host of new engineering features designed to further improve drivability and practicality.

Thanks to its Crossover DNA the NP300 Navara brings a new level of refinement, style, comfort and quality, as well as first-in-class technologies to the pick-up market. The introduction of a five year or 100,000 mile manufacturer warranty with the new NP300 Navara is further testament to the vehicle's credentials, and provides additional peace of mind for customers.

In-line with Nissan innovation, the new NP300 Navara introduces an array of new technology. In a sector that has traditionally been slow to adopt the very latest in comfort and safety features, it sets a new benchmark for affordable technology. Around View Monitor and Forward Emergency Braking (FEB) – both highly acclaimed Crossover safety features – are unique to the pick-up market and provide customers with more advanced levels of technology than ever before in a pick-up truck. Further safety and convenience features include Cruise Control, Hill Descent Control (HDC) and Hill Start Assist (HSA), all of which have been developed to meet the specific demands of NP300 Navara owners, as well as keyless entry, rear-view camera and parking sensors.

Improving refinement and delivering a Crossover-style driving experience was a key element of the NP300 Navara's development. To help achieve this without compromising the vehicle's acclaimed off-road ability, Nissan has designed an all-new five-link rear suspension system for the Double Cab model, providing significantly improved ride comfort and handling, and is 20kg lighter than the previous layout.

The King Cab features a substantially updated version of the leaf spring design fitted to the previous generation model. Not only does the new over slung leaf weigh 7kgs less than the previous under slung design, it also gives the King Cab a 3.1 per cent improvement in rear wheel approach angle and delivers a reduction in road noise.

Every element of the cabin has been optimised to provide the best possible quality, comfort, space and practicality for drivers and passengers. The dashboard assembly has been redesigned from the ground up, with a sculpted appearance that creates increased cabin space and a more open feel. Spinal Support front seats offer improved ergonomics, and have been engineered using technology inspired by NASA.

Additional features include dual-zone digital climate control, as well as a new rear cab ventilation and seat design, to provide a more comfortable travelling environment for passengers.

Designed and engineered for the specific requirements and preferences of the European market, and also manufactured in Europe, the NP300 Navara has been designed to deliver a rugged yet sporty overall style, with a mix of convex and concave surfaces fora dynamic and bold look. Nissan's signature V-motion grille and boomerang shaped LED daytime running lights provide distinctive Nissan design cues.

The NP300 Navara's new 2.3-litre dCi engine is up to 24 per cent more efficient than the unit it replaces and is the cleanest and most economical in its sector. Available with two power output options, 118kW (160PS) and 140kW (190PS), the range-topping version introduces twin turbocharging technology to the sector for the first time and delivers exceptionally low running costs and substantially reduced CO2 emissions.

Great engines need great transmissions, and once again the new NP300 Navara excels. The latest generation model will launch with the choice of two or four-wheel drive and the option of a standard six-speed manual or a seven-speed automatic gearbox.

As customers have come to expect, the new NP300 Navara is as capable off-road as it is on-road. The four-wheel drive system builds on the strengths of the design fitted to the previous generation model, and delivers surefooted traction over rough terrain.

Knowing that pick-up owners need their vehicles to earn their keep, the NP300 Navara's load carrying and towing ability across the range is improved. With payload ratings now in excess of one tonne across the range and an impressive towing capacity of 3,500kg, the new NP300Navara is ready for the toughest and most demanding of jobs or leisure pursuits.

The load bed itself is home to further Nissan innovations in the form of the brand's acclaimed C-channel load system. With heavy-duty channels on the rear cabin bulkhead and bed sides, owners have complete flexibility when it comes to securing vulnerable loads. Because the clamps slide along the C-shaped channel tracks, even the most unusually shaped load can be secured with ease.

To help owners go further with more, the new Double Cab's load bed is 67mm longer than the previous model, with a sector-best load bed length of 1,578mm. The King Cab's load bed measures 1,788mm in length.

UK Ford Mustang Orders Accelerate Towards 2,000

Almost 2,000 Ford Mustang orders have been taken in the UK since January as the first right-hand drive cars begin to roll off the production line at Flatrock Assembly Plant in Michigan, North America. The Ford Mustang – introduced in the U.S. more than 50 years ago – has excited fans across the globe, but has never been available to order with right-hand drive, until now. The first UK customer deliveries are expected from November, with extra supply secured to meet the greater than expected demand. So far, 80 per cent of UK customers have opted for the fastback body style over the convertible and 70 per cent have specified the 416PS 5.0-litre V8 engine over the more fuel-efficient 317PS 2.3-litre EcoBoost engine. Mustang's six-speed manual transmission is the slightly more popular choice (55 per cent) over the six-speed automatic, which comes with sporty SelectShift paddle cont rol. Over half of UK Mustangs have been specified with the Custom Pack which includes satellite navigation, a Shaker Pro 12-speaker audio system, heated and cooled front seats, a rear view camera, Luster Nickel silver alloy wheels and extra chrome detailing on fastback models.

Dacia Line-Up Even More Shockingly Affordable

The Dacia Duster is now even more 'shockingly affordable' to run with the introduction of a brand new EU6-compliant 1.6 16V 115 petrol engine which improves performance, reduces fuel consumption and CO2 emissions, significantly reduces running costs and improves the towing capacity of 4x2 models. It replaces the previous 1.6 16V 105 engine. With its arrival, Dacia now offers a greater number of petrol-engined models in the Duster line-up. Mid-range Ambiance 4x2 and 4x4 versions have been added, giving a more progressive and logical product line. Previously, only entry-level Access models were offered with a petrol engine. The new Ambiance versions are priced at £10,495 (4x2) and £12,495 (4x4). The new petrol engine is also fitted to Access versions, which are priced at £9,495 (4x2) and £11,495 (4x4). There are also reductions in fuel consumption and emissions for Duster models powered by the dCi 110 turbodieselengine, which now meets EU6 emissions standards. As with the new petrol engine, this has the effect of lowering the VED band of every model. There are also improvements to the fuel economy and emissions of most models in the Sandero family and the Logan MCV with the adoption of EU6 engines.

Introducing The Stylish All-New Kia Optima

The all-new Kia Optima will be unveiled in European specification at the Frankfurt International Motor Show on 15 September 2015. The fourth-generation Optima, which will go on sale across Europe in Q4 2015, boasts a modern, new exterior, a bold interior design with more space for all occupants, an array of new technologies and a wide choice of efficient powertrains. The new model will offer greater refinement and improved ride and handling over the outgoing model, while retaining the sporty image that has helped Optima become one of Kia's best-selling models worldwide. The exterior styling of the all-new Kia Optima was a question of balance for Kia's global design teams. The all-new Optima maintains the athletic identity that made it so popular, while making a confident leap forward to attract car buyers looking for something different. Conceived under the watchful eye of Peter Schreyer, President and Chief Design Officer of Kia Motors, the all-new Optima offers more road presence than ever, with its contemporary surface detailing, sharp body lines and creases, and a more elongated sedan silhouette.

MK LIGHTNING

New-look squad faces 'Ashes' test

A new start: Head coach Pete Russell will lead the team for the first time this season

MK LIGHTNING supporters were spoilt at the weekend when the club held its annual Meet The Players evening at the Milton Keynes Arena.

At the event on Bank Holiday Monday, fans met new head coach Pete Russell, and saw his new-look Lightning team take part in an open training session.

Fans also had the first opportunity to see the new dark, light and warm-up jerseys – all featuring the logo of the club's new principal sponsor, Smith Recycling MK Ltd.

The event was followed by an informal 'meet and greet.'

Speaking with MK NEWS prior to the event, Russell said: "We're really excited to kick off the new season. This event gives us a chance to show fans that we're always growing and progressing.

"As a new coach, I think the changes I have made will help give the team a fresh outlook for the season.

"They have been important changes, and they all serve a purpose in reaching our targets and stimulating the team in a different way.

"I have been coach since April this year, and I've enjoyed every minute of it so far. We gel really well as a team. We have some really good, hard-working players who are all excited for the new season."

Nick Poole, former coach and now MK Lightning director said: "Pete is a real asset to the team. He has a lot of experience so I know he is going to do well in the season ahead.

"As for me, I have taken a step back, but I'm still very much involved with the team.

"At the moment it's all about enhancing the experience for fans and growing MK Lightning as a brand and involving schools in the sport."

Lightning will contest the 'Ashes' series with Peterborough Phantoms this Saturday and Sunday and they also have two friendlies with Basingstoke Bison before the season begins on Saturday, September 12, with a home game against Bracknell Bees.

CRICKET

North Crawley sign off in style

A RECORD-breaking score of 232 from Alex Walker helped North Crawley see off their season in style as they thumped New City (Milton Keynes).

North Crawley were 384-6 in the first innings as they cruised to a commanding victory, with Walker scoring 27 fours and six sixes on their way to victory.

Milton Keynes City signed off life in Division One with a 21-run success over New Bradwell as Muhammad Tahir Mahboob scored 57 on City's way to 141 all out. New Bradwell were dismissed for 120.

Milton Keynes could only draw with Eaton Bray.

Replacing Milton Keynes City and Buckland and Aston Clinton in Division One next season will be Division Two champions Olney Town and runners-up Aspley Guise.

Olney won the title by just eight points.

A brave effort from Wesley Fernando couldn't stop Stony Stratford from losing to Wollaston in the Northamptonshire Cricket League. He scored 72 runs in the second innings as Stony tried to chase down their target of 234 but they fell just short, losing by 19 runs.

Opener Praveen Chandran scored 46 and Vicram Sohal was on 42. Kamran Anwar picked up a five-wicket haul while Stephen Richardson got the other three wickets as Wollaston scored 234-8 in the first innings.

Stony are just 13 points above the drop zone, with only one team getting relegated, and there are three games left.

Wolverton Town will need to better Oxford Seconds' result in next week's final game of the season if they are to survive in the Cherwell Cricket League.

They lost to league winners Thame Town by 135 runs as Wasim Fayyaz's four-wicket haul still saw the league's top side score 238-8. In reply, Wolverton were 103 all out.

Great Brickhill beat Twyford by seven wickets. George Humphries was 4-49 as he helped dismiss Brickhill's opponents for 120 in the 29th over. In reply, Great Brickhill were able to secure victory in the 19th over thanks to 34 from Nick Cadman and an unbeaten 33 from Douglas Aris.

DONS PLAYER OF THE MONTH

August vote is still open

THE month of August is now finished but there is still plenty of time for you to vote for your favourite player of the month.

Out of everybody who has voted so far, Jordan Spence is leading the way but Carl Baker isn't too far away.

Of course there are a lot of other players who have done their bit to steer Dons to 11th in the Championship and the third round of the Capital One Cup and you can vote for them as well.

These are the seven games that you need to bear in mind from the month of August:

August 8 - Rotherham 1-4 DONS
August 11 - DONS 2-1 Leyton Orient (Capital One Cup first round)
August 15 - DONS 0-2 Preston
August 18 - DONS 1-0 Bolton
August 22 - Reading 0-0 DONS
August 25 - DONS 2-1 Cardiff (AET) Capital One Cup second round
August 29 - DONS 0-2 Birmingham

Dons looking for a third striker

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

MK Dons boss Karl Robinson is still keen on bringing another striker to the club.

The summer transfer window closed at 6pm last night with no extra strikers being signed but the loan window is still an available option when it opens next Tuesday and it is one which Dons have enjoyed success with over the years.

Strikers Sam Gallagher and Simon Church were drafted in during the summer but they are yet to score for Dons, although both could count themselves unlucky over recent weeks, with Gallagher having a header cleared off the line in last week's Capital One Cup victory over Cardiff City, while Church struck the post against Reading a week last Saturday.

Robinson is happy with the workrate that both strikers are putting in, but he has always adopted a policy of having three forwards at the club and with Tom Hitchcock on loan at Stevenage, he is keen to add another striker to the ranks.

"I do think we need another striker to support Sam Gallagher and Simon Church who work wonderfully hard," he said.

"We've always had three strikers here – we tried Daniel Powell in certain elements but not in others as he's not a natural striker.

"We know Dean Bowditch can play up front so we know we have players who can fill in that void and that's why we have Josh Murphy in on the wings.

"Hopefully we'll get stronger and better."

Full back Lee Hodson backed his teammates Gallagher and Church to get onto the scoresheet in future games.

"Sam Gallagher has come in from Southampton and Simon Church is a full international so the goals will come and it's not just the centre forwards that need to be more clinical in front of goal, that's everyone," he said.

"If you get an opportunity you've got to stick it away but everyone will play their part and the two forwards we have are more than capable of scoring goals and they will score goals for us this season."

Hodson is one of three players who have been called up to international duty while the rest of the squad have a free Saturday.

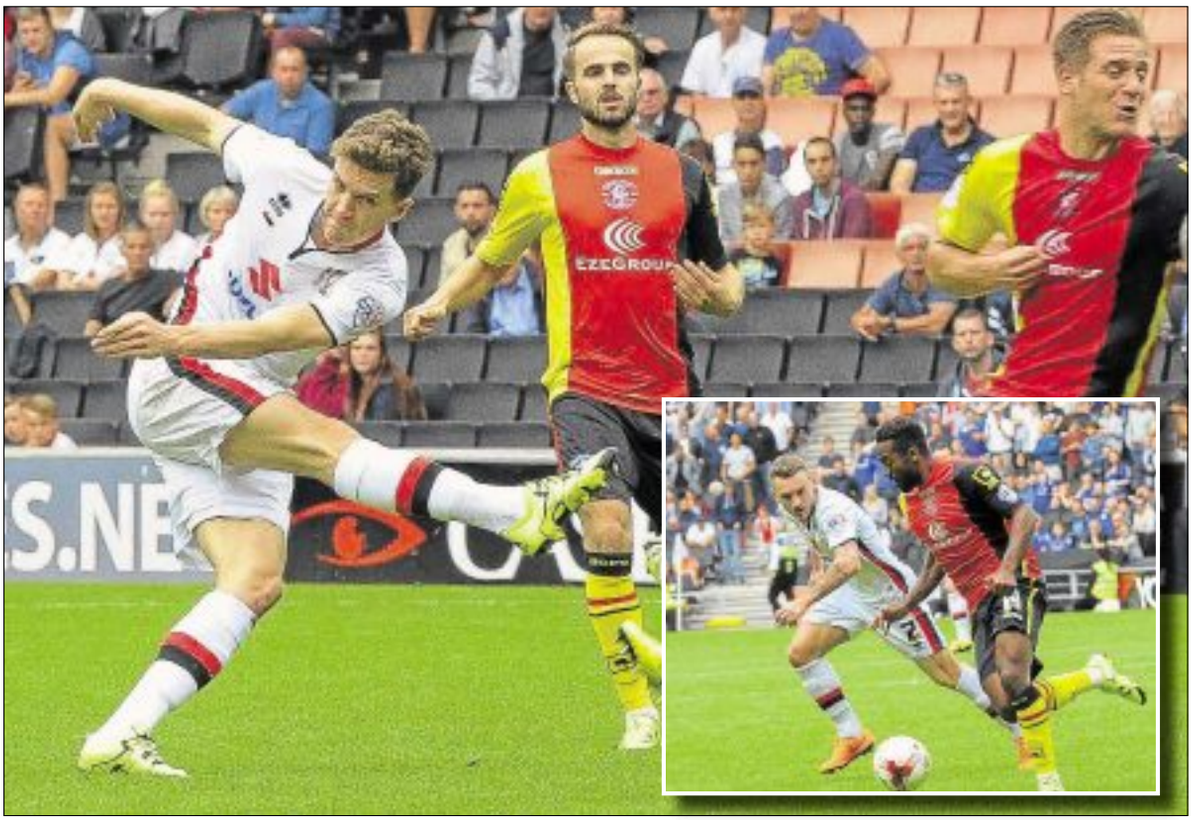
Hodson has been called up to the Northern Ireland squad, Church has been drafted in for Wales duty and goalkeeper Cody Cropper has been called up by USA U23s.

On Thursday at Preston North End's Deepdale, the Americans take on an England U21 outfit that will include former Dons' academy protogees Dele Alli and Brendan Galloway and Robinson intends to go up and watch the game in Lancashire.

Last Saturday Stephen Gleeson came back to stadiummk for the first time since he moved to Birmingham City last summer and typically he got the St Andrews outfit on the way to their 2-0 win by scoring the first goal.

Gleeson celebrated his goal in front of the visiting fans – something which ex-players do not always do when playing at their former clubs – but Robinson said his celebrations did not bother him.

"I don't mind him celebrating because why shouldn't he?" said Robinson.



Striking options: Sam Gallagher is yet to find the back of the net for Dons but full back Lee Hodson (inset) believes he will get goals for the club
